

NORTH WEST END UK

News, Reviews and Interviews from theatres across the UK

Do you Need More QR Codes?

Create Static or Dynamic QR Codes with Logo, Color, Design, Frames, Tracking and many more

QR Code Generator PRO

Open

HOME NEWS REVIEWS FEATURES CONTACT US

The Return of Sherlock Holmes – theSpace @ Surgeons Hall

☉ 11 August 2022

Sherlock Holmes (Nigel Miles-Thomas) the world famous detective and his partner in crime Watson (Michael Roy Andrew) are at it again but this time it's Watson who comes across the clues. It's been three years since Sherlock's believed demise at the hands of arch nemesis Moriarty and Watson finds himself lost. Returning to Baker Street to wander the old flat Watson find a letter addressed to himself from a strange source warning him of a murder that just so happens to be in the paper that day.

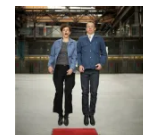

Andrew plays of the role of Watson tremendously, a man in grief who still possesses the curiosity of a detective but displaying himself as a nervous mouse of a man. His comedic timing is on point, and he never misses a beat.

Nigel-Thomas is impeccable as the famous detective carrying Sherlock's brilliance and wildly intelligent mind effortlessly. He does not stray from the fact that Holmes is a difficult man with an intense sense of self-worth but succeeds in showing the eccentric and funny side of the character.

There is like any Sherlock tale a mystery to be solved and it is so cleverly delivered but the mystery is not the main plot point of this play. The relationship between the characters is the best part of the whole production, the dynamic between these two men is extraordinary and really does bring to life the characters we all know so well: Watson's adoration and respect for Holmes and Sherlock's unspoken love for his friend Watson despite his inability to show it like most would.

LATEST POSTS

Shame On Yc Summerhall C Room

☉ 14 August 2022

The Man Who Knew Too Much Pleasance Dc

☉ 14 August 2022

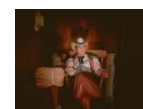

Work.txt – Su Lab

☉ 14 August 2022

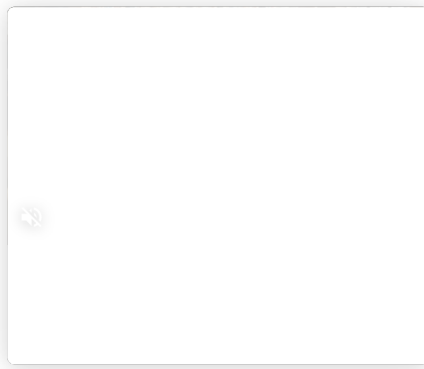

Men With Cops Gilded Balloon Hoose

☉ 13 August 2022

The West – C

☉ 13 August 2022

This is a stellar piece of theatre and so well acted. I would highly recommend it to anyone whether you're a fan of Sherlock Holmes or not. It's funny, it's sweet and very clever!

The Return of Sherlock Holmes plays from the 5th-27th august (excluding the 14th) every day at 3:15pm at Surgeons Hall.

Get your tickets HERE.

Reviewer: Beth Eltringham

Reviewer: 11th August 2022

North West End UK Rating: ★★★★★

Post Views: 189

Facebook

Twitter

Pinterest

WhatsApp

Messenger

Email

0

Shares

Posted in Scotland

Tagged in Edinburgh Fringe, Nigel Miles-Thomas, Surgeons Hall, The Return of Sherlock Holmes, theSpace

< Prev

S-ex-iety – The French Institute in Scotland

Next >

Christof Epaminondas and Friend\(s\): Too Much Encouragement – Just The Tonic at the Caves

About Us

North West End UK was formed in 2015 with an aim to promote both amateur and professional theatre on an equal footing. Our team comprises of actors, directors, producers and passionate theatre fans. Registered OffComm assessors.

Recent

Shame On You! – Summerhall Demonstration Room

The Man Who Thought He Knew Too Much – Pleasance Dome

Work.txt – Summerhall Old Lab

Men With Coconuts – Gilded Balloon Patter Hoose

The West – COLAB Tavern

Archive

Visit our archives dating back to our creation in 2015.

Tags

Blogs \(9\)

East Mid

FEATURES \(1\)

Interviews \(62\)

Lor

NEWS \(607\)

North

NWE UK Live \(11\)